

MOTHERHOOD

The first requisite of a good mother is good health, and the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as a woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, more successfully than by any other medicine because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years has been the standby of American mothers in preparing for childbirth. Noteworthily, Mrs. James Chester, of 427 W. 35th St., New York, says in this letter:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every expectant mother knew about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A neighbor who had learned of its great value at this trying period of a woman's life urged me to try it and I did so, and I cannot say enough in regard to the good it did me. I recovered quickly and am in the best of health now."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a successful remedy for the peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women. It has cured almost every form of Female Complaints, Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation, Ulcerations and Organic Diseases of Women and is invaluable in preparing for Childbirth and during the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

SOLVING THE JAP PROBLEM

The California Delegation Meets President

AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Basis of an Agreement Reached—Another Meeting Comes Today, When the Details Will Be Arranged.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—President Roosevelt and the authorities of San Francisco Saturday reached the mutual understanding that the California-Japanese school question can be adjusted without danger of any serious difficulty with Japan.

The details of the adjustment are not agreed upon. To arrange them other conferences are to be held, the next to take place Monday. It was authoritatively stated that the one accomplishment of Saturday's conference was a mutual understanding that a settlement could be reached which would be satisfactory and which would leave no ground for trouble making complaint by Japan.

The California delegation came to Washington, it is stated, with nothing in the nature of an ultimatum, but rather open to the consideration of any basis of settlement which the administration might propose.

The conference took place at the White House Saturday afternoon. It was attended by President Roosevelt and Secretary Root, representing the administration, and by Mayor E. E. Schmitz, the members of the board of education and superintendent of schools and the assistant city attorney of San Francisco, representing the educational interests of the city.

The conference, in accordance with an understanding reached earlier in the day, when Mayor Schmitz saw the president with Representatives Kahn and Hayes, began shortly after 3 o'clock.

Preceding their call the president had been closeted for some time with Secretary Root, presumably for the purpose of talking over the situation. This over, the president cordially greeted the Californians, who had been shown into his office, and after a few brief formalities the conference was begun. Secretary Root remained at the president's request.

The San Francisco delegation, in addition to Mayor Schmitz, included Lawrence F. Walsh, president of the board of education; A. Altman, Thomas F. Boyle, David Oliver, Jr., members of the board; Alfred Roncovieri, the superintendent of schools; L. P. Leddingwell, secretary to the board, and T. J. Williams, assistant city attorney.

When at 4:15 the conference ended, Mayor Schmitz and his party returned to their hotel.

JEALOUS GIRL KILLS DOCTOR AND SELF.

Advised His Engagement to Another, Went to His Office and Used a Pistol.

Kansas, City, Feb. 11.—Dr. E. H. Morvin, aged thirty-eight, at one time a surgeon in the United States Navy, and Miss Blanche Slater, a seamstress, were found dead in Dr. Morvin's office in the Hall building this afternoon. Each had a bullet in the head. Jealousy is supposed to have been the motive.

Dr. Henry Toelle, who had offices with Dr. Morvin, heard a shot fired, apparently in Dr. Morvin's office. Dr. Toelle tried to open the door of the office, but found it locked. Dr. Toelle glanced through the glass panel in the door and saw the body of Dr. Morvin lying on the floor, his head against the door. The body of the woman was crouched in a corner of the room.

Dr. Toelle notified Charles Newell, a patrolman, who went to the office and stood guard at the door. No one was allowed to enter the room until the coroner arrived.

Dr. Marshall, an assistant city physician, entered the office from the fire-escape and found a revolver in the woman's hand.

Dr. Toelle said he was talking with Dr. Morvin ten minutes before the shots were heard. They were in the former's office at the time. Dr. Morvin was in a pleasant frame of mind and did not seem worried about anything.

Dr. Toelle said that he did not know Miss Slater, but had seen her in Dr. Morvin's office and supposed she was a patient of Dr. Morvin. Dr. Morvin, he said, had never spoken to him of Miss Slater.

Miss Slater is said to have been a patient of Dr. Morvin. Other physicians in the building say that she has visited Dr. Morvin's office frequently.

Dr. Morvin was unmarried and lived with his parents.

It is reported that the doctor had refused to marry the girl.

Dr. Morvin had expressed annoyance because Miss Slater frequently wrote him letters, telephoned to him and in other ways thrust her attentions upon him. He even charged that through a feeling of jealousy Miss Slater had published an announcement of his engagement to another woman. The announcement was most embarrassing to Dr. Morvin and the young woman concerned, and both promptly declared it to be false and said they were not responsible for the publication.

Miss Slater, who was twenty-three years of age, told her aged parents that she was going to the office of Dr. Morvin for medical treatment.

JAPAN SHOWS HER GRATITUDE

To Purchase Materials For South Manchurian Railroads in The United States.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A special to the Daily News from Tokyo says:

"According to reliable information received by the Daily News correspondent from the South Manchurian railway will adopt the American system of construction and operation, and the materials will be purchased in the United States."

"Apparently this is done as an expression of the gratitude of the Japanese to the Americans for their invaluable friendship as shown during the war with Russia, in the negotiations of the Portsmouth treaty and in the handling of the San Francisco school trouble."

his secretary of state with the Californians afforded an opportunity for a full and free discussion of the issues which had brought them together.

KING EDWARD'S VISIT A MYSTERY.

His Inaug. Trip to Paris May Be Rap Over Knuckles for the Kaiser.

London, Feb. 11.—London is still speculating over the real object of King Edward's visit to Paris, and no two men agree. The prevailing opinion appears to be that he desires to bring about an amicable understanding between the French government and the pope. It is known that King Edward is deeply desirous of a reconciliation.

Others think that he seized upon this particular moment for the purpose of curbing the exuberance of his nephew, the Kaiser, who is so much elated over the success of his jingo policy, meaning to impress him with the fact that the Anglo-French entente is stronger than ever.

Whichever is right, it remains a fact that King Edward intends to cruise in the Mediterranean within a few weeks, and will probably again visit the pope. Among the king's particular set another reason is given for his absence at this moment. They say that he desired to escape attending the Benck-Burns wedding, fearing there might be some sort of a disturbance forced by Father Black or his emissaries. The Bencks are among the king's closest friends.

Mrs. Bentick being always ready to arrange small entertainments where he can meet his special friends.

The wedding took place in London yesterday. King Edward and Queen Alexandra left Paris yesterday for London.

DEMANDS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Titled and Untitled Women March to Exeter Hall.

London, Feb. 11.—Titled women clad in silk and velvet, women with university degrees, girl graduates in caps and gowns, women artists, members of the Lyceum and other women's clubs, temperance advocates and women textile workers gathered from all parts of Great Britain Saturday afternoon and marched in the rain through the muddy streets of London in support of the movement in favor of woman suffrage. They were marshaled at Hyde park and with bands and banners marched through Piccadilly, Regent street and Pall Mall to Trafalgar square, and Exeter hall, where a public meeting was held. The speakers demanded the early attention of Parliament to the bill providing for the enfranchisement of women. The demonstrators included such well known women as Lady Frances Balfour, sister of the explorer, Lady Maud Parry and other titled women, Mrs. Fawcett, widow of the ex-postmaster-general, and most of the leaders of the more important suffrage societies, who were utterly opposed to the militant methods of the so-called "suffragettes," who recently were carried out of the House of Commons by police-men and committed to prison for disturbing the peace. There were several thousand women in the procession which was half a mile long.

Conditionally. A certain minister tells of an Irishman to whose bedside he was once called. The man was very ill, and his recovery was doubted.

"Have you forgiven all your enemies, Pat?" the minister asked.

"Sure an' Oi have; all except Dan O'Hagan," Pat replied.

"But you must forgive all if you hope to reach paradise," the minister continued.

"Well, all right, then," said Pat after reflecting for some time, "but if Oi get well Oi'll break his head."—Harper's Weekly.

THE REASON WHY.

I need the money and know of no more certain way of raising it, than by selling my merchandise at cost and below. You no doubt will remember that when the Red Canvas Sign was up in front of my store last year that you got the BIGGEST AND BEST run of your life for your money. Well, it will again adorn my front beginning Thursday, February 7th, for nine days, and when I say your dimes will become almost dollars in their purchasing power at this the SALE OF ALL SALES you can put it down for Gospel truth, that is sure. I will make this the sale of my life and it will blaze a trail through the tangled meshes of competition, annihilating high prices and put ALL OTHER SO-CALLED SALES in the pale light of insignificance.

I wish to impress upon the mind of the buying public that I don't buy up a lot of cheap stuff to make a sale or to promote business, nor no I make a sale on just certain things that are undesirable and worth more out of the store than in, but I include everything that my stock contains and you have your choice of buying just what you need and not what someone wants to sell you. Bear in mind that during this Drastic Price Reduction Sale in which I will affect a clean sweep, everything will be placed on the counters including Spring Clothing and Summer Underwear on which as everything else I have made such erratic reductions. That although you don't need it now the time will soon be here when you will, it will more than pay you to put in your supply now at the phenomenal low prices it is to be sold at. Lack of space will not permit me to quote prices on everything, but as stated above everything goes in this sale, Shoes, Rubbers, Hats, Underwear, Gents' Furnishings, Clothing, etc., at prices that will put you in a position to obtain two suits for the money some other stores will charge you for one. If you have not been to my last sale ask your friends and neighbors they will gladly tell you that I more than live up to my advertisements.
